1.4 Operating Procedures

For the sake of clarity, the term “Operating Procedures” mentioned in this Manual includes this OTC Derivatives Trade Repository Reporting Service Reference Manual and circulars issued by the HKMA from time to time.

2. BACKGROUND

The global financial crisis in 2008 triggered a global movement to improve transparency and reduce counterparty risks in the OTC derivatives markets, resulting in reforms to the OTC derivatives markets on various fronts. The reform measures adopted by the international regulatory community include requiring all OTC derivatives transactions be reported to trade repositories (“TRs”) and all standardized OTC derivatives transactions be cleared at central counterparty (“CCP”) clearing facilities.

A TR is a centralised registry that maintains an electronic database of records of OTC derivatives transactions. By collecting and providing OTC derivatives transactions information to regulatory authorities, the TR plays a vital role in supporting authorities in carrying out their market surveillance responsibilities, which will help maintain stability of the financial systems. It also helps increase transparency in the market, promotes standardisation and provides a level of consistency in the quality and availability of transaction data.

To meet international standards, the HKMA announced in December 2010 to establish a TR in Hong Kong, and that a link will be developed between the TR and the CCP for OTC derivatives to be launched by Hong Kong Exchanges and Clearing Ltd to allow eligible transactions to be passed to the CCP for central clearing. The HKMA also worked in concert with the Government and the Securities and Futures Commission (“SFC”) to build a regulatory regime for the OTC derivatives markets under the Securities and Futures Ordinance (“SFO”), including requirements for mandatory reporting to the TR of the HKMA and mandatory clearing at designated CCPs. In August 2013, the HKMA introduced interim reporting requirements to require Licensed Banks (“LBs”) to report OTC derivatives transactions with another LB to the TR of the HKMA. A set of Securities and Futures (OTC Derivative Transactions – Reporting and Record Keeping Obligations) Rules (the “Reporting Rules”) was introduced into the Legislative Council for negative vetting in June 2015 and became effective on 10 July 2015. The interim reporting requirements was ceased at the commencement of the Reporting Rules.

Under the new regulatory regime, Authorized Institutions (“AIs”) and Approved Money Brokers (“AMBs”) licensed and regulated by the HKMA under the Banking Ordinance; Licensed Corporations (“LCs”), recognised clearing houses (“RCHs”) and automated trading services – central counterparty (ATS-CCP) licensed and regulated by the SFC under the SFO are required to report specified OTC derivatives transactions done or conducted by them to the HKTR. Activity thresholds and exemptions are available to exempt entities with a low activity level and end-users from reporting. Hereinafter, the regulatory regime effected by the SFO and the interim reporting requirements will be collectively referred to as “OTC derivatives regulatory regime”.

Subsequent to the introduction of the Securities and Futures (OTC Derivative Transactions—Reporting and Record Keeping Obligations) Rules in July 2015, the Securities and Futures (OTC Derivative Transactions—Reporting and Record Keeping Obligations) (Amendment) Rules has come into effect on 1 July 2017. As compared to the phase 1 mandatory reporting requirement, the phase 2 mandatory reporting requirements has covered transactions in all five key asset classes, new data fields and valuation transaction information. Entities subject to mandatory reporting requirements should refer to the rules for detailed reporting requirements and pay attention to the progress of the relevant legislation. To keep up with international developments, in March 2024 the HKMA and the SFC issued a joint further consultation paper (Consultation Paper) on enhancements to the OTC derivatives reporting regime for Hong Kong to mandate the use of Unique Transaction Identifier (UTI), Unique Product Identifier (UPI), the reporting of Critical Data Elements (CDE) and the adoption of the ISO 20022 message standard. Later in September 2024, the HKMA and the SFC issued the Consultation Conclusion Paper which provided a list of data fields that will be mandated and gazetted for the purpose of OTC derivatives reporting requirements from 29 September 2025.

The HKTR provides an electronic system for collecting, keeping and maintaining details of OTC derivatives transactions efficiently, securely and in conformity with market standards. Entities subject to mandatory reporting requirements under the OTC regulatory regime can discharge their reporting obligations only by reporting to the HKTR.

2.1 Enquiries on Mandatory Reporting Requirements

AIs should direct their enquiries on policy related matter with respect to the mandatory reporting requirements to the designated telephone hotline (852) 2878-1279, email: (bpd_otc@hkma.gov.hk) of the Banking Policy Department of the HKMA or email: (fss@hkma.gov.hk) of the Financial Stability Surveillance Division of the HKMA.

AMBs should direct their enquiries on the mandatory reporting requirements to Mr Ivan Lam (phone no.: (852) 2878-1470 or email: ivan_yy_lam@hkma.gov.hk) of Banking Conduct Department of the HKMA.

Entities or persons other than an AI or an AMB should direct their enquiries on the mandatory reporting requirements to the SFC at otc_enquiries@sfc.hk.

3. REPORTING SERVICE

The HKTR provides service to TR Members who are or may be subject to the mandatory reporting requirements under the OTC regulatory regime for capturing, maintaining and updating the details of OTC derivatives transactions through its electronic system (“HKTR system”), primarily for the TR Members to discharge their mandatory reporting obligations.

Transactions reported to the HKTR are effected by agreements between the parties to the transactions. The fact that they are reported to and maintained by the HKTR does not of itself confer any legally binding effect on such transactions.

3.1 HKTR Reporting Service Product Scope

The types of OTC derivatives product supported by the Reporting Service of the HKTR (“HKTR Reporting Service Product Scope”) are basically determined with reference to the types of product subject to mandatory reporting under the OTC regulatory regime.

Over time, new OTC derivatives products may be added to the Reporting Service as the scope of products subject to mandatory reporting under the OTC regulatory regime expands. In July 2013, the HKTR system was initially launched to support reporting of certain interest rate derivatives and foreign exchanged derivatives transactions. The HKTR Reporting Service Product Scope was further expanded in September 2014 to cover equity derivatives and more products under interest rate and foreign exchanged derivatives. Further in June 2016, apart from adding credit and commodity derivatives into the product scope, the HKTR system also supported the reporting of daily valuation transaction information. In September 2025, the HKTR system implemented significant enhancements, including the adoption of the ISO 20022 message standard and mandatory reporting of UTI, UPI, and CDE, which also encompass detailed requirements for margin and collateral reporting.

The HKTR Reporting Service Product Scope can be found in Annex 1. The updated list is also available in the HKTR Info Page website (<https://hktr.hkma.gov.hk>). Changes to the list will be advised to TR Members through circulars. TR Members should also make reference to the OTC regulatory regime to ascertain, among the products supported by the HKTR, which products are subject to mandatory reporting.

3.2 Business Day

The term “business day” as stipulated in this Manual means a day other than a Saturday, a Sunday or a day which is a general holiday as specified in the General Holidays Ordinance (Chapter 149 of the Laws of Hong Kong) except otherwise specified in the relevant chapters of this Manual.

4. PARTICIPATION PROCEDURES

4.1 TR Membership

A reporting entity must join the HKTR as a TR Member before it can make reports of OTC derivatives transactions to the HKTR.

Application for TR Membership must be made in writing to the HKTR. Prior to becoming a TR Member, each successful applicant is required to enter into a contractual agreement with the HKMA, i.e. the Reporting Service Agreement. Each successful applicant will be assigned and advised a unique TR Member code to represent its identity in the HKTR system.

The list of TR Members and their TR Member codes can be found in the HKTR Info Page website (<https://hktr.hkma.gov.hk>). The list will be updated regularly. Changes to the list will also be advised to TR Members.

The Reporting Service Agreement, which incorporates the provisions of this Manual, as updated from time to time, together with any directions given in circulars by the HKMA, sets out the terms and conditions of the Reporting Service Agreement with which a TR Member is required to comply.

4.2 Operational Information

Before joining the Reporting Service, a TR Member must supply certain operational information to the HKTR by completing and submitting the following forms to the HKTR:

- (a) TR Membership Application Form, at Appendix TR.1
- (b) TR Member Record of Authorized Signatures Form, at Appendix TR.2
- (c) TR Member Profile Maintenance Form, at Appendix TR.3
- (d) TR Member Administrative Account Setup Form, at Appendix TR.4
- (e) A scanned copy of the completed Direct Debit Authorisation Form, available on the HKTR Info Page website

Unless otherwise required by or agreed with the HKTR, the above completed forms must be submitted to the HKTR at least 10 business days before the date on which the TR Member can commence making use of the Reporting Service, subject to the completion of other relevant logistical and technical arrangements, e.g. access to different reporting channels (see Clause 7.1) may require different amount of lead time to establish.

After the TR Membership has commenced, any changes to the operational information must be notified to the HKTR in writing, supported by updated version of the relevant forms, if applicable. Unless otherwise required by or agreed with the HKTR, TR Members should notify the HKTR a change at least 10 business days before the change takes effect.

4.3 Obligations of TR Member

All TR Members must fulfil the following obligations:

- (a) All TR Members shall have systems in place which are complementary to the HKMA/HKICL's contingency arrangements so as to enable HKMA/HKICL to ensure timely recovery of its usual operation in the event of occurrence of an adverse contingency affecting such operation. Such contingency arrangements shall be modified from time to time in the manner required by the HKMA, and the HKMA shall notify TR Members the changes accordingly.
- (b) TR Members shall participate in the contingency drills arranged by the HKMA/HKICL from time to time so as to verify the readiness of TR Members' contingency arrangements.
- (c) TR Members shall participate in various member/simulation tests arranged by the HKMA/HKICL from time to time so as to prepare themselves ready for any new service to be launched.

The HKMA will monitor through HKICL the performance by TR Members of these obligations under the arrangements.

In the event that HKICL becomes aware of any non-performance by any TR Member of its obligations under these arrangements, HKICL shall as soon as practicable inform the TR Member concerned and request it to ensure performance of the relevant provision, and inform the HKMA of such incident.

5. LEAVING THE REPORTING SERVICE

5.1 Termination Notice

At least 30 calendar days' notice in writing is required if a TR Member is to withdraw from the Reporting Service or terminate its TR Membership.

5.2 Termination Arrangements

If a TR Member has not instructed the HKTR to quit the transactions at the HKTR (to signify that the Member will no longer report on the transactions) before leaving the Reporting Service or terminating its TR Membership, the HKTR will automatically apply a quit status or a Transferred Out status for reporting in ISO 20022 message standard to all the transactions of the Member on the date of the Member's leaving the Service or terminating the Membership.

After a TR Member leaves the Reporting Service, or terminates its TR Membership, the information of OTC derivatives transactions previously reported by the Member to the HKTR under the OTC regulatory regime will continue to be stored at the HKTR. However, the transaction records can no longer be amended or updated for events that happen after the date on which the TR Member leaves the Service or terminates the Membership.

6. SUSPENSION OR TERMINATION BY THE HKTR

6.1 Suspension or Termination of Access to Service

Under the terms of the Reporting Service Agreement, the HKMA may suspend or terminate the membership of a TR Member or its access to the Reporting Service under specified circumstances. On suspension or termination of a TR Membership, the HKTR will:

- (a) prevent the TR Member from accessing the Reporting Service until the HKMA authorises otherwise.
- (b) inform other TR Members as soon as practicable about the suspension or termination.
- (c) where the TR Member subject to suspension or termination of access to the Reporting Service is an AI or an AMB, inform Banking Supervision Department or Banking Conduct Department of the HKMA respectively about the suspension or termination.
- (d) where the TR Member subject to suspension or termination of access to the Reporting Service is an entity or a person other than an AI or an AMB, inform the SFC about the suspension or termination.

The Reporting Service will, however, continue to be in operation subject to the terms and conditions of the Reporting Service Agreement. Unlike in the case of termination, the HKTR will not apply a quit status or a Transferred Out status for reporting ISO 20022 message standard to the transactions that the Member reported to the HKTR before the suspension. The transactions, however, will not be accessible by the Member for updating during the suspension period.

7. CONNECTING TO THE HKTR

7.1 Connection and Information Submission Channels

TR Members have to submit trade information of OTC derivatives transactions to the HKTR for reporting through the channels specified by the HKTR. All TR Members can submit trade information to the HKTR through internet. TR Members that are users of ICLNet and SWIFTNet can also submit trade information via such two channels. For the avoidance of doubt, TR Members may adopt multiple channels for the submission of trade information of different transactions, of same or different products, to the HKTR simultaneously.

The system connection and interface of TR Members with the HKTR for trade information submission should be developed and established in conformity with the specifications set out in the Reporting Service AIDG. Submission of trade information via the established channels must also be made in conformity with the standards specified in the AIDG, for example, standards of file format, file naming convention, configuration of parameters under different channels, user authentication, etc.

7.2 Submission of Trade Information through an Agent

The HKTR accepts TR Members to submit trade information for reporting through an agent. A TR Member opting to submit trade information through an agent has to nominate the agent to the HKTR. The agent can be a third party service vendor or another TR Member, including the counterparty to the TR Member in the transaction.

TR Members may nominate an agent to the HKTR using the Agent Nomination Form at Appendix TR.8. The TR Member should specify the scope of information to be submitted by the agent on its behalf using the Agent Profile Maintenance Form for Reporting Service at Appendix TR.9A. The agent should acknowledge the nomination by the TR Member in both Forms, and supply certain operational information required by the HKTR, e.g. contact information, authorized signatories and technical information related to the connection and submission modes to be adopted by the agent. The agent should also agree to observe the terms and conditions for accessing the HKTR system (“Agency Terms”) specified by the HKTR (Appendix to Appendix TR.8).

Subject to the agent meeting the relevant technical, logistical and documentation requirements to the satisfaction of the HKTR, the HKTR will confirm with the TR Member and the nominated agent the date for the nominated agent to commence reporting for the Member (in the form of the Approval Confirmation in Appendix TR.8). If an agent is not a TR Member, it will be assigned and advised of a unique Agent Code to represent its identity in the HKTR system. The HKTR system will reject trade information submitted by an agent on behalf of a TR Member before the commencement date for reporting by the agent as confirmed with the Member, or if the trade information submitted by the agent is not in conformity with the relevant standards.

Prior to the commencement of reporting via a nominated agent, the TR Member must conduct and complete testing with the agent to ensure that the relevant logistical and technological arrangements for reporting are fully functional.

According to the Reporting Service Agreement signed with the HKMA, the TR Member will assume full responsibility over the activity of its agent in accessing the Reporting Service on its behalf.

The termination of the appointment of an agent or any changes to the reporting scope of the agent must be notified to the HKTR in writing, supported by the updated Agent Profile Maintenance Form for Reporting Service, if applicable. Unless otherwise required by or agreed with the HKTR, TR Members should notify the HKTR a change at least 10 business days before the change takes effect. The Agency Terms applicable to an agent in respect of the agent’s appointment by a TR Member will cease to be effective when the agent’s appointment is terminated by the TR Member.

For the avoidance of doubt, a TR Member can simultaneously submit trade information directly and through agents. A TR Member can appoint multiple agents for submitting trade information, in same and different products. An agent can submit trade information on behalf of different TR Members.

8. TRADE INFORMATION SUBMISSION

8.1 Trade Information Submission Approach

The HKTR supports both the life-cycle approach and the snapshot approach for capturing and maintaining OTC derivatives transactions for reporting purposes. Except in the case of backloading or re-reporting an outstanding transaction to the HKTR, where the snapshot approach has to be adopted, reporting entities may opt to adopt the life-cycle approach or the snapshot approach for reporting trade events. For the avoidance of doubt, reporting entities may adopt different reporting approaches for different transactions.

Under the life-cycle approach, reporting entities have to submit trade information at inception and on subsequent trade events individually and sequentially, in chronological order, as they occur until the expiry or scheduled termination of the transaction. Each submission made will therefore signify a single trade event in the pre-ISO template or an action and event combination in ISO standard. Reporting entities adopting the snapshot approach for reporting a transaction, on the other hand, have to report “snapshots” of the transaction, each may incorporate the effects of multiple trade events. The trade events covered by each snapshot, however, must take place on the same trade day. Like trade events under the life-cycle approach, snapshots of a transaction should be reported to the HKTR one by one sequentially and, in chronological order. Hereinafter, trade events for the pre-ISO template and trade actions in ISO standard under life-cycle reporting approach and snapshots under snapshot reporting approach are to be collectively referred to as “trade events”. For the avoidance of doubt, if there is no change to the information of a transaction reported to the HKTR, reporting entities should not make a report to the HKTR in respect of the transaction.

In the case of re-reporting in the ISO standard, TR Members have to submit trade information of the outstanding position (snapshot) of the transactions. New trade events of an outstanding transaction can be submitted to the HKTR only after the transaction has been re-reported to the HKTR.

Trade events applicable to transactions in different types of OTC derivatives product may be different, due to differences in the economic substance and underlying of different products. Generally, the trade events supported by the HKTR for reporting include actions of new, modify, correct and terminate. In addition, TR Members may initiate requests to manage the trade events submitted to the HKTR, e.g. error, revive, and transfer out. For details of the trade events applicable to different products and under different circumstances, please refer to the Reporting Service AIDG.

Each trade event should be submitted to the HKTR only once. In the event that a TR Member is simultaneously making use of multiple channels or agents for trade information submission, it must ensure that there is no duplication of submission through the various channels and agents.

8.2 Responsibility of Submitting Trade Information

According to the OTC regulatory regime if both transacting parties of an OTC derivatives transaction are subject to the mandatory reporting requirement, they are required to report trade information of their respective side of the transaction to the HKTR.

TR Members should make reference to and observe the requirements in the OTC regulatory regime in determining whether they are required to make a report on an OTC derivatives transaction to the HKTR.

8.3 Scope of Trade Information to be Submitted

The scope of information of a trade event of an OTC derivatives transaction required to be submitted to the HKTR for reporting purposes depends on the nature of the event, the type of product to which the transaction belongs and the relevant requirements of the OTC regulatory regime. The information to be reported is classified into mandatory and optional information, determined with reference to the requirements of regulatory authorities as well as operation needs of the HKTR.

Mandatory information is information that a TR Member must supply to the HKTR. Mandatory information comprises information essential to the HKTR for administering and processing the transaction, e.g. action type, event type and specific administrative fields, etc., and core transaction details, e.g. transacting parties, prices/rates, amounts, etc. Part of the Mandatory Information is conditional in nature, meaning that it is required only under specified condition(s), e.g. in the case of a cleared trade, the data field clearing member is required to be reported. Optional information is information that the TR Member can decide whether to supply together with the mandatory information, and mainly comprises transaction information other than the core details.

For details of the information to be submitted for different trade events and products, and under different circumstances, and the classification of the information into mandatory and optional information, please refer to the Reporting Service AIDG.

In response to local and international regulatory development, the scope of information to be submitted and the classification of the information into mandatory and optional information may be adjusted. The HKTR will notify TR Members of any changes, and update and re-issue the Reporting Service AIDG to specify the changes.

8.4 Format of Trade Information Submission

TR Members should observe the standards specified in the Reporting Service AIDG in terms of the format and contents of the information to be submitted to the HKTR for reporting purposes.

Format of information submission

With the introduction of ISO 20022 message standard, the pre-ISO templates such as Financial Products Markup Language (“FpML”) format or Comma Separated Value (“CSV”) format are no longer applicable¹. Under ISO 20022 message standard, submission must be done in Extensible Markup Language (“XML”) format. For details of the technical specifications of trade information submission, please refer to the Reporting Service AIDG.

The HKTR accepts submission of a trade event and trade action request file containing records of multiple OTC derivatives transactions and multiple trade events or trade actions of a transaction. When preparing and submitting files containing trade event/actions information to the HKTR, reporting entities also have to observe other technical standards set out in the Reporting Service AIDG, e.g. file identification and authentication standards, and configuration standards applicable to the XML format and different submission channels, i.e. internet, ICLNet and SWIFTNet.

Contents of information submitted

The contents of individual data strings contained in a transaction record should reflect the value of the corresponding transaction details applicable to or referred to in the trade event agreed by the transacting parties, e.g. the price/rate level, transaction amount, transaction date, etc., and may vary from one transaction to another. However, TR Members are required to observe the enumerations and coding schemes set out in the Reporting Service AIDG in representing some transaction details so as to facilitate processing of the transactions by the HKTR. The enumerations and coding schemes cover, for example, , currency codes, country codes, etc. The majority of the codes specified in the enumerations and coding schemes are consistent with international standards that have been widely adopted by the industry.

¹ In accordance with the “Joint further consultation conclusions on enhancements to the OTC derivatives reporting regime for Hong Kong” published on September 2024, the HKMA and the SFC have adopted the approach requiring the re-reporting of live legacy transactions with a remaining maturity of more than 1 year as of the implementation date within a 6-month transitional period. During the transition period, the HKTR will maintain the existing system (i.e. CSV, FpML format) to facilitate the reporting of life cycle events and daily valuation for trades, if any, that are yet to be migrated to the XML format.

Identifiers for reporting or transacting parties

As set out in the Reporting Service AIDG, the HKTR can support several types of third party-assigned identifier for indicating the identity of the reporting or transacting party of a transaction. Specific instructions on the reporting of such identifiers have been set out in the SRI annexed to the Reporting Service AIDG.

Identifiers for transactions

To facilitate the HKTR system to link up two sides of a transaction reported by the two transacting TR Members, and to facilitate TR Members to efficiently identify and resolve potential reporting errors, TR Members on both sides of a transaction are required to supply a unique and same transaction identifier (“UTI”). Specific instructions on the reporting of such identifiers have been set out in the SRI annexed to the Reporting Service AIDG.

8.5 Timeframe for Trade Information Submission

The HKTR has not set any minimum or maximum time limit for reporting a transaction, or a trade event/action to it after the transaction or event is agreed by the transacting parties,

TR Members, however, should observe the schedule, rules and requirements in the OTC regulatory regime, if any, on the time for reporting a transaction or a trade event/action to the HKTR for meeting the relevant mandatory reporting requirements.

8.6 HKTR System Window for Capturing OTC Derivatives Information

The HKTR system operates from Monday to Saturday to capture transactional details of OTC derivatives, and the corresponding valuation and margin & collateral information submitted by TR Members except during regular outage windows for system maintenance and certain specified outage window for software migration and updates. The regular outage windows for submitting OTC derivatives data information to the HKTR through different channels are set out in the table below.

Channel	Monday to Saturday (Hong Kong time)	Sunday ² (Hong Kong time)
UI upload via SWIFT WebAccess FileAct via SWIFTNet	0:30 - 7:00 (HKTR system may begin data capturing prior to 7:00AM, depending on the time required for system maintenance on that day)	23:00 (Sat) – 00:30 (Mon) (and additional outage period published by SWIFT from time to time, if any)
FTS via ICLNet		23:00 (Sat) – 00:30 (Mon)
UI upload via Internet		23:00 (Sat) – 00:30 (Mon)

During the regular outage period, the HKTR-Reporting Portal's User Interface (UI) and enquiry functions are not available.

Apart from the UI, straight-through processing (STP) interfaces like FileAct via SWIFTNet and FTS via ICLNet are also established to facilitate data submission and capturing. Likewise, these STP interfaces are subject to regular outage.

² During the Sunday outage, inactive transaction such as those that have already expired, or have been terminated, or transferred out, or have an error in the record for 3 months or longer and legacy information related to these transactions such as valuation, margin and collateral, will be regularly archived to offline storage. Please refer to the "Operating Procedures for Hong Kong Trade Repository – User Manual for Participants" for details on the data retention period.

While TR Members will not be able to upload files through the UI functions via the Internet or SWIFT WebAccess during the Monday-to-Saturday outage windows, TR Members can continue to upload files through FileAct via SWIFTNet or FTS via ICLNet as the files will be QUEUED in the system and will be automatically captured for processing once system resumes operation.

During the Sunday outage window, file submissions through FTS via ICLNet will be available, with files be QUEUED in the system. However, FileAct via SWIFTNet is not available on Sundays, and TR Members will NOT be able to upload submission files during this period.

9. TRADE VALIDATION AND LINKING

9.1 Transaction or Trade Event Validation

Upon receiving a trade event request file from a TR Member, the HKTR system will validate the format, contents and syntax of the file as well as that of the individual trade event records contained in the file. If an error is detected, the whole file or individual records will be rejected, depending on whether the error occurs at file level or trade event record level. A response will be provided to the TR Members submitting the trade event request file about whether the file or individual trade event records have been accepted or rejected.

Trade event records successfully validated will then go through the linking process.

9.2 Transaction Linking

To help ensure the quality of the data of OTC derivatives transactions at the HKTR, and to facilitate TR Members to identify and resolve potential reporting errors, the HKTR system will identify, compare and link up updated records of transaction conducted between TR Members (recognised by the HKTR system based on the identification numbers supplied by TR Members under the TR Member Profile Maintenance Form at Appendix TR.3). Updated records of transaction conducted between a TR Member and a non-TR Member will not be linked and will be classified as single-sided transactions in the HKTR system.

The linking process will be conducted by batch mode and performed once everyday. For trade events of a transaction reported to have been agreed between a TR Member and a counterparty TR Member on a trade day, the HKTR system will aggregate the effect of the trade events and compute a resultant position of the transaction for the trade day. The HKTR system will then search for and link it up with updated position of the transaction of the counterparty TR Member bearing matching information (but in opposite direction) in a set of core transaction details (linking and matching fields) of the transaction³. TR Members can check from the HKTR system and the relevant system reports for those transaction records that have been linked.

Where a TR Member finds that its transaction has been mistakenly linked to another transaction of the counterparty TR Member, e.g. the transaction should be linked to another transaction bearing same matching fields but is different in other aspects, and considers it necessary to correct the link, e.g. for bringing consistency with internal records, the TR Member may initiate a request to relink the transaction.

Where the linking and matching fields of an updated transaction of the TR Member cannot be matched with that of the counterparty TR Member, e.g. the counterparty TR Member has not yet reported all the trade events to the HKTR or a reporting error has been made by one of the transacting TR Members, the updated transaction of the TR Member will be deemed to be unlinked. TR Members can check from the HKTR system and the relevant system reports on the unlinked transactions to facilitate them to identify and resolve potential discrepancies.

TR Members must have in place effective controls to ensure that their transactions are reported timely and accurately, and any errors in reporting can be promptly identified and resolved. The reports on unlinked or unmatched transactions produced by the TR system are tools to facilitate TR Members to identify and resolve potential missing or unmatched transactions.

³ In the interim, only “Open” trades where both Counterparty 1 and Counterparty 2 are TR participants will be eligible for the simplified linking and reconciliation process. For the latest information on the HKTR's linking process, please refer to the "Operating Procedures for Hong Kong Trade Repository – User Manual for Participants"

10. REPORTING SERVICE REPORTS

10.1 Types of Report

There are three types of report:

- (a) System reports –generated automatically by the system. Reports are generated in off-line batch mode at pre-defined time or after a specific event, and can be delivered via file transfer or viewed/downloaded via UI function
- (b) Enquiry-Initiated User Requested reports – Reports are generated in background mode. Users can check report generation status, view or download the generated report via the View Report List function
- (c) UI Enquiry reports – Reports are tied to the enquiry functions, showing the same result set as the enquiry. Reports are generated in on-line real-time mode and then sent to the browser front-end for the user’s viewing

Please refer to the various User Manuals for Participants of the Operating Procedures for Trade Repository for the summary of report list, report samples, and the schedule and procedures for retrieving the relevant reports through different channels and in different formats.

10.2 Reconciliation of Reports

TR Members should download all the reports under the Reporting Service and reconcile their reports on a daily basis. Any discrepancies should be reported to the HKMA as soon as practicable and in any event, not later than 7 business days from the date of the relevant report. If any report is reported to be incorrect, the HKMA will make the relevant investigation and if applicable, re-issue the report revised as necessary.

11. CONTINGENCY ARRANGEMENTS

11.1 Local Terminal Service

In case a TR Member cannot access the HKTR system through its own production facilities due to prolonged system connectivity problems with SWIFTNet, the TR Member may make use of the Local Terminal Service (“LTS”) provided by the HKICL to access the Reporting Service. The TR Member can generate the relevant trade event request files from its own system, and then upload the files to the HKTR system directly at the terminals located at the office of the HKICL.

LTS should be used as the last resort for accessing the Reporting Service. TR Members should rely on their own backup facilities for contingency operations. In case a TR Member needs to utilise LTS under contingency situation, the TR Member has to apply to the HKICL directly in accordance with the arrangements promulgated by the HKICL.

11.2 Typhoon and Rainstorm Procedures

The Reporting Service of the HKTR will remain accessible under rainstorm and typhoon scenarios. TR Members can continue to send trade events to the HKTR system for reporting purposes. TR Members, however, should observe the schedule, rules and requirements in the OTC regulatory regime, if any, on the time for reporting a trade event to the HKTR for meeting the relevant statutory reporting requirements under a typhoon or rainstorm scenario.

12. BILLING

In entering into an agreement for subscribing to any service of the HKTR, TR Members will undertake to pay a membership fee if applicable.

TR Members using the Reporting Service will also be subject to transaction charges based on the usage of the HKTR system.

The TR Membership fee and the transaction charges for the Reporting Service are set out in the fee scale in Annex 2. The updated scale is available in the HKTR Info Page website (<https://hktr.hkma.gov.hk>). Changes to the scale will be advised to TR Members through circulars.

12.1 Settlement Arrangements

The fees and charges for making use of the Reporting Service will be settled via the autodebit facility provided by a bank in Hong Kong.

To settle fees via the autodebit facility, TR Members are required to authorise the HKMA to debit the fees from the designated accounts maintained with their appointed banks in Hong Kong. TR Members are required to provide their authorisations, autodebit account details and payment limits by completing the Direct Debit Authorisation (“DDA”) form. TR Members should obtain the DDA form from the HKTR Info Page Website and submit the completed DDA form to their appointed banks and send a scanned copy to the HKMA.

12.2 Billing Arrangements

All fees are invoiced in Hong Kong dollar and billed monthly to TR Members. The arrangements are as follows:

- (a) A demand note stating the total amount of fees payable will be issued to the specified contacts of the TR Members on the 2nd business day of the following month.

- (b) The fees will be automatically debited from the autodebit accounts authorised by TR Members (in the DDA form) on the 7th business day following the issuance date of the demand note. Please ensure sufficient funds are available for settlement.

- (c) Autodebit transactions will be notified to TR Members via pre-agreed means (e.g. bank statements) between the TR Members and their appointed banks.
